

Volume 4 Issue III

December 2006

Ethics in Buddhism

By Karunasara

Karunasara has been practicing Buddhism since the early 1990's. She was ordained into the WBO in 2003. After having been part of the Seattle Sangha for several years she moved to NH and practices as part of the Aryaloka Sangha. She is active in helping to plan the program, keeping the buildings clean, and leading and participating in study and devotion.

paths there are many lists or ways to make quences. This is why ethics is a major unour practice more specific. One of these derpinning of our Buddhist practice. Unimportant lists that we use as guides for skillful or negative actions bring negative our practice is that of the six paramitas results. Skillful or positive actions bring consisting of generosity, ethics, patience, positive results. Since positive results are energy, meditation and wisdom. In our what we wish for, it is important to figure last issue of Vajra Bell we explored gen- out how to act as ethically as possible. erosity. Now we will take a look at ethics, the second paramita.

Ethics is that part of our practice that we tice in the five precepts. These are not can touch and feel. It is our actions as they rules. The precepts are principles we pracare influenced by our meditation and our tice to help us be more and more skillful understanding of the Dharma. It is caring in our actions. Our behavior is not classifor others and caring for ourselves.

Sangharakshita divides ethics into con- certain behavior brings positive results, ventional morality and natural morality. not that we are good or bad. If we are un-Conventional ethics are roles or standards skillful we should look at what we have governing conduct re: what is good or bad done, wish we had done differently, figure as decided in our society. Moral ethics are out what could have been a better action based on Dharma principles. Both are use- and aim to do that the next time the opful. In our daily lives we use both conven- portunity arises. tional and moral ethics to guide our acwill make a difference in our body, speech and mind and will affect our next action.

here is a threefold path of practice Whatever we do will also affect the exterin Buddhism---Ethics, Meditation nal environment and the body, speech and and Wisdom. Within these three mind of others. All actions have conse-

> Fortunately, in the Dharma teachings we are given a guideline for our ethical pracfied as good or bad but as skillful or unskillful. Skillful highlights the fact that tions. Moral ethics also help us to pro- The precepts are stated in both a negative gress spiritually. When we practice ethics and positive manner. Each approach combased on morality, we are basing our ac- pliments the other. As we begin our practions on the Dharma principle of condi-tice of the precepts we start in a way that tioned co-production. Conditioned co- relates them to conventional ethics as we production means that every event that understand them. As we continue and prohappens causes conditions for another gress in our practice, we understand them event to happen. In this way, we are en- in more depth based on Dharma princitirely interdependent. Whatever we do ples. If we were enlightened, we would

(Continued on page 8)

Sadhu Amala

The Aryaloka Sangha has grown almost Sandy Bonin will be the Center Adminis- gratitude for Amala's leadership and viexponentially over the last few years, and trator, and Anita Herring will continue sion, both spiritually and administratively. in large part that is due to the work of the with the new title of Office Manager. Her love of the Dharma and her wish for Center Director, Dharmacharini Amala. Amala has accepted the position of Pro- all to have access to the wonderful teach-She has been whole hearted in her com- gram Director and will devote more of ings has sustained her through her long mitment to the Center and worn more hats her time to program planning and teach- and fruitful leadership. in that role than it is possible to count. ing and that is a gift for us all. Now she feels it is time to pass the administrative hat on to someone else. There is no way to express all of our

Thank you Amala, with all of our hearts.

Practice Musings from the Chair

We are what we think.

All that we are arises with our thoughts. With our thoughts we make the world Speak or act with a pure mind And happiness will follow you. From the Dhammapada

When, eighteen years ago, I first came to know the people at Aryaloka Buddhist In the Bodhisattva Ideal our teacher Sang- our practice. I am thankful for the endless Center I was struck by their practice – to not cause harm; to cultivate positive tially a matter of skillful mental states with our sangha. We change the world mental states, mindfulness and loving expressed in skillful behavior and skillful around us with the changes in ourselves. kindness; to decrease destructive emo-speech. The precepts of natural morality Let us rejoice with one another in the tions; to act with wisdom and compas- are those precepts which prevent one good done by all beings. sion; to practice generosity; to live ethi- from committing unskillful actions, that is cally; to develop patience; to use energy to say actions based upon craving, aver- Dayalocana, in pursuit of the good; and to live life sion and ignorance – and help one to per- Chair, Aryaloka Buddhist Center with respect for all beings.

It seemed that all my life I had been dom." searching for such a community. It was a relief to find such a special place, where Our sangha is a wonderful reminder that stayed.

form actions based on skillful states of mind such as generosity, love, and wis-the desire to not cause harm was shared we all have the ability to change, to inand practice of ethical awareness was the crease our sensitivity to all beings, to supfoundation for transformation. It is why I port one another in our efforts of body, speech and mind, and to not cause harm. The purity we seek comes about through harakshita writes, "Moral life is essen- opportunities to practice at our Center and

Contact Information

Aryaloka Buddhist Retreat Center 14 Heartwood Circle, Newmarket, NH 03857 603-659-5456

info@aryaloka.org www.aryaloka.org

Aryaloka Council

Davalocana Saddhamala Amala Viriyalila Khemavassika Buddy Vaughan Sandy Bonin

dayalocana@comcast.net saddhamala@verizon.net amala@metrocast.net raintomars@msn.com sueb1011@verizon.net havaughan@comcast.net sbonin@earthlink.net Leonie Luterman leonieluterman1@mac.com

Vajra Bell Kula

Leonie Luterman, Chair Marilyn Dyer Candace Copp Karunasara Sandy Bonin Stephen Sloan

leonieluterman1@mac.com pewedyer@worldpath.net hullcopp@verizon.net karunasara6@verizon.net sbonin@earthlink.net sloan@comcast.net

Sila

By Sandy Bonin

ties? As Sharon Salzberg says in Loving- wrong I was! kindness: The Revolutionary Art of Haptions with each other... If we want to en- skillfully, joy happiness, taking care to be ethical I need to be especially mindful of and atis a cardinal means for that aspiration."

tice the Dharma effectively, we have to friendly comment could perhaps bring her [it]." Let's make it so! act in ways that create harmony.

I've discovered that to be doing them?! a moment of happiness.

When I first began studying sila, I And no, I don't go around purposely hurtthought, Well this can't be so hard. I ing people, but do I do my fair uddhist sages tell us that sila - mo- don't go around hitting people or pur- share of small kindnesses during the rality, ethics - is second only to posely saying things to hurt their course of a day? Do I take the time to wisdom as the primary concern of feelings. I don't steal from other folks and listen to a colleague who just needs to a Buddhist practitioner. Second, perhaps, I always bring it to the store share what he is feeling right now, but not far behind! For example, without clerk's attention if I've been under- right this minute? Do I pick up a piece of sila we cannot be effective medita- charged. Of course, I do exaggerate paper that has fallen on the tors. How can we sit on the cushion, fo- from time to time. And I do tell a few floor because someone missed the waste cused on loving-kindness toward our- white lies now and then to avoid basket? Do I smile at strangers I pass on selves and others, if earlier that day, we hurting other people's feelings or spare the street (whether they are smiling or swore at someone who cut us off in traffic myself some embarrassment. But, really, not) or blow a mosquito off my arm inor rolled our eyes when on the phone with I think I do pretty well with this sila is- stead of swatting it? Do I refrain from someone with whom we have difficul- sue. It didn't take long to discover how taking up someone's time who is obviously in a hurry and for whom it would be difficult to stop and chat with me just piness, "The path may lead to many pow- While obvious ethical lapses like the ones then? Am I mindful enough to do these erful and sublime experiences, but the described above are certainly things? Am I mindful enough to even be path begins here with our daily interac- important to address if I want to practice aware that the opportunity is there for me tentive to more subtle ethical So, I still have a long way to go in my practices as I go about my day. It's not practice of sila. Sometimes I am The Buddha taught that we all - all sen- enough to check my change to be skillful, sometimes I am not. Sometimes tient beings - are interconnected, sure I haven't been undercharged - I need I remember to be alert to opportunities to If I harm you in any way, I harm my- to be aware that whoever is be kind and generous and truthful, someself. If I treat you with kindness and waiting on me is a fellow human be- times I am oblivious. But I'm working on compassion, I am treating myself the ing. Does she look tired? Did the it. To borrow more of Sharon Salzberg, " same way, and vice-versa. The same is previous customer treat her curtly? Is We find that we can continually refine true of our relationship to the environ- there a long line of customers our understanding of [sila] and can In order to establish a world behind me? I need to look her in the eyes enjoy a deepening sense of radiance and in which we can find happiness and prac- and remember that a smile or a happiness through our attention to

BuddhaWorks The Aryaloka Bookstore

Y KARING KAR

Gifts for Someone Special

- Meditation Candles
- DVDs from Pema Chodron
- and Lama Surya Das
- Meditation Journals
- CDs from Thich Nhat Hanh
- Singing Bowls
- Brass Door Chimes from Nepal and India
- Children's Coloring Books
- Lots and Lots of Great Books!

Your support brightens Aryaloka's future.

BuddhaWorks is located at the Aryaloka Buddhist Center.

Sangha Notes "What's Happening?"

more than $5400 this year! Many thanks band of folks finished painting the outside many Aryaloka folks attended (see artito all of you who planned and worked on of the dome, cleared out the gardens, relo- cles). There are quite a few Buddhist mithis important fundraising event, as well cated the "wandering" bridge (a mighty tras among the inmates, including two as all those who contributed items and effort by some very strong guys!), did a men who have asked for ordination. services and who generously bid on the lot of painting as well as installing sheet- Sadhu!...The next day, November 5, Pamany donations! [Editor's Note: It would rock inside Aryaloka, replaced the light in ramashanti led the annual Sangha Day not have happened without Sandy's inspi- the shrine room, vacuumed the floors and celebration at Aryaloka...Finally, Anne ration and very hard work. She took us to rugs in Akasaloka, cleaned out the barn Rugg, Leonie Luterman, and Sandy a whole new level!] ...Aryaloka president (what a job!), rearranged some shelves, Bonin recently returned from a retreat at Nagabodhi was here in October to lead and finished up many other small tasks. the Taraloka Women's Retreat Center two retreats, give a talk at Friends' Night, Many thanks to all those who volun- in Wales where they studied the Four serve as auctioneer (and do a fantastic teered their time and energy and to Khe- Foundations of Mindfulness through the job!), and meet with many folks from our mavassika for keeping everyone well- Satipatthana Sutta. All three agree that sangha...Shantigarbha, an Order mem- fed! A number of other jobs remain to visiting a retreat center in the U.K. is a ber from the U.K., also came to Aryaloka be tackled at another time... not-to-be-missed experience and encourthis fall to lead a retreat and give a talk on Paramashanti is currently visiting Arya- age others to "cross the pond" if the opnonviolent communication (to rave re- loka from the U.K. for several months, portunity comes up. (See article pg.10) views!)...Many thanks to Vidhuma and For those who may not be aware, Pa-Bodhipaksa, outgoing Aryaloka Council ramashanti was among the first people to members, for their generous service to the live and work here at Aryaloka after it center...Please welcome new Council was established as the first FWBO center members Leonie Luterman and Sandy in the U.S. Please take the opportunity to Bonin...Karunadevi, an Order member say hello and spend some time with him, from San Francisco, visited Aryaloka in if you haven't already. We are lucky to November to lead a women's retreat and have this kind and gracious man spend a meet with women from the sangha...The bit of time with us...On November 3 and October work day was very successful 4, the Concord sangha at the NH State

The Aryaloka annual auction raised despite the intermittent drizzle. A hardy Prison for Men hosted a retreat which

FRIDAY NIGHT PUJA

The rich devotional practice of puja is shared most Friday nights by those who find devotion an important part of their practice. We start with a period of meditation and follow this with puja.

All who attend Sangha night on Tuesdays, mitras and order members are invited to participate.

We start at 7 pm at either Aryaloka or Akasaloka - check the bulletin board for location.

Dates are as follows: Jan 5 Jan 12 Jan 19 Jan 26 Feb 2 Feb 16 March 2 March 9 March 16 March 23 March 30

When we celebrate the Sevenfold Puja, which combines faith and devotion with poetry and sometimes an element of visual beauty, we find that our emotional energies are to some extent refined. When this happens, it becomes possible for the vision and insight of the higher thinking center to act through these refined, sublimated emotional centers directly on the moving center. In this way, the whole of life is completely transformed. Sangharakshita—Ritual and Devotion

Who Can Contribute to the Vajra Bell?

YOU CAN!

Submit an article or a poem or a picture for consideration, or simply share some information and we'll do the writing for you. Just contact any of the Vajra Bell staff – see "Contact Us" section in this issue.

A Sense of Place - An Artist's Tribute to the Continents more information, go to www.pem.org).

Betsy will be present at the opening on sia. Saturday, December 16 from 2 to 4 p.m. to greet guests and explain her work. On "An interest in the spiritual qualities of 2:30-3:15 p.m. in the Morse Auditorium.

ground includes university study as well as practical training and research in tra- "More and more, my work is a meditation ditional Japanese arts, from scroll paint- and a centering in this diverse world." ing and tea ceremony to kimono design and resist-dyeing techniques.

"Working with applied dyes and hot wax on silk is a meditative process for me,

Betsy Sterling Benjamin is an internationally known textile artist, the author of The World of Rozome: Wax-Resist Textiles of Japan and teaches at the Massachusetts College of Art in Boston.

Have you seen the beautiful silk wall centering and ecstatic, planned and spon- Manchester, England from February 3 to hangings in the Aryaloka bookstore? taneous. I work with color and pattern - March 2, 2007. She will also present a They are the work of our own Betsy Ster- mark-making with resist-dye techniques - lecture at the Centre entitled "Buddhist ling Benjamin. Her seven kesa (Buddhist using the materials of acid dye, ganryo Textiles: Inspiration for Contemporary monastic robes), one for each continent, pigment and occasionally silk thread, all Art" on Friday, February 2, 2007. The will be exhibited at the renowned Pea- researched as part of my early studies in official opening for the exhibit will be body Essex Museum in Salem, MA from the kimono industry of Kyoto. My work held on Saturday, February 3 from 3 to 5 December 16, 2006 to June 3, 2007. (For clearly reflects eighteen years of life in p.m. Japan as well as impressions from winter studios in Spain, Costa Rica and Indone-

Sunday, January 7, she will do a demon-cloth, transformation, and a global view stration in the Atrium of the museum led me to work on a series of seven kesa from 12 to 1:45 p.m., and present a lec- (Buddhist monastic robes) prepared at ture on "Art of Peace and Healing" from the time of the millennium and involving communities around the world. As cloths of healing and unity, one for each conti-"Painting with 'hot wax on thirsty cloth nent, they were on-site in Machu Picchu, and deep, rich dyes' is an apt way to de- Antarctica, Zimbabwe, Spain, Tasmania, scribe the rozome work I do. My back- Minnesota and Kyoto on January 1, 2000.

chester Buddhist Centre, 16 Turner Street, 2005.

Songs of the Buddha Heart features eighteen layered-silk images on the theme of transience and reflection. This work explores Buddhist sutras and poetry coupled with imagery from Betsy's eighteen years as a resident of Kyoto, Japan. The images were created over a two-year period and include six pieces inspired by the poetry of Sangharakshita, the founder of the Friends of the Western Buddhist Order. Large-scale pieces two meters in height and more intimate, narrow, scroll-type pieces were created with the rozome (Japanese batik), gold powder stencils and shibori (clamp resist) techniques. In addition, a number of collaborative works include photo images on silk with stitched In addition, Betsy's art will go interna- text by Luanne Rimel. Part of this exhibitional when it is shown at the "Songs of tion was presented in a two-person show the Buddha Heart" exhibition at the Man- at Honen-in Temple, Kyoto, Japan in

$oldsymbol{lpha}$ Sangha Night at Aryaloka

- Date: Every Tuesday evening, 7:00-9:15 pm
- Led by: Amala and Saddhamala
- Level: Open to all who have attended an introductory class at Aryaloka
- Fee: Suggested donation $10 per class
- No registration necessary

Typically, our Tuesday night activities are:

- 7:00 Gathering, tea, and announcements
- 7:15 Meditation and shrine room activity
- 8:00 Study, discussion, or a talk on the evening's topic
- 9:15 End

With all of the activities, you are free to participate or to just sit and Nothing is compulsory. If you have any questions, please ask!

FROM VIDHUMA

I first joined the Aryaloka council just Although all variety of items might be fortunately for the Council, have continafter my ordination in July of 1997. The brought up, the focus of most of the meet- ued to give their experience, wisdom, other members at that time were Sila- ings was money - or, more accurately, the guidance and hard work through to the ratna, Thiradhamma, Vajrmati and Daya- lack of money. Although we all held each present. Manapa and Aparajita, each for locana. Paramashanti had left us, as had other in high respect, worry, tension and his time, came and left. Silaratna, Va-Vidyavati. Aside from Punya and Suri- frustration (about the finances) usually jramati and Thiradhamma each for their yadamma in the Boston area, these were were the predominant emotional tones. own reasons left in due time. For a long the only Order members associated with Still the council did what it had to do, and stretch just finding a time to meet was a Aryaloka at that time. So much has what it had to do was survive. changed in the nine and one half years since then. The Council had no Chair at Survival, bare and basic, continued to be because critical decisions sometimes were that time, and so the agendas were long the Council's worrisome responsibility that frequent. and included everything anyone thought and essential theme for my first five years of, and the time was always too short to or so. The membership went through a Three significant evolutions occurred to address everything. No (or at best, little) steady flow of change as new Order lead the Council to its current stable, solid preparation occurred before the meetings, members joined the council and various and sanguine place. Dayalocana became and initially the meetings were sand- Order members moved away. Suddhayu, the Chair, and pulled the Council towiched into whatever space was available and then Surakshita, were steady mem- gether. She organized. She prioritized. before the Chapter meeting (at that time bers for quite a few years. They were fol- She infused more spiritual direction and only one Chapter existed at Aryaloka). lowed by Saddhamala and Amala who, challenge. We often met in Manchester in the morning, and often we met weekly

(Continued on page 7)

The Council

From Sandy Bonin

A new "Council year" has begun with the from the second floor of the kitchen dome arrived and will be visiting Aryaloka for annual election of officers and a slight and the third floor of the shrine dome. In several months. He has been helping the change in membership. Officers for the order to comply with current building center in significant ways during his time coming year include Dayalocana, chair; codes, these structures will need to be here; he has been a supportive presence at Khemavassika, treasurer; Leonie Luter- regular staircases with landings rather Friends' Night on Tuesdays, hosted visitman, corresponding secretary; and Sandy than the circular staircases that were ing church youth groups, traveled to the Bonin, recording secretary. Outgoing originally proposed. members Vidhuma and Bodhipaksa were replaced by Sandy and Leonie. Dayalo- Other maintenance work has also been with sangha members, etc. cana, on behalf of the Council, expressed ongoing. Leaks have been repaired in the thanks and gratitude for all that Vidhuma bookstore, the mold in Shantiloka that Amala has also announced that Karunahas contributed to the group over the last resulted from the spring flooding has been mara and Vajrasuri, Order members who nine years, and much appreciation for his removed, pipes have been moved in the work in India, will be coming to Aryaloka sound judgment and opinions. paksa was also thanked for all that he has the heating of Akasaloka more efficient, able to meet with all women, perhaps give done to further the goals of the Council and the installation of a vapor barrier for a talk to the sangha on a Tuesday night, and the growth of Aryaloka.

The Council met with Aryaloka president Nagabodhi during his recent visit in order A new computer and related equipment ing months.

Ideas are still being discussed for the out-

Bodhi- downstairs barn space in order to make for ten days in April. They will be availthe basement of the kitchen dome is under and meet with women who have asked for discussion.

to review the Center's progress during the has made the work of the office staff Future Council meetings will be held on past year and discuss ideas for the future. much easier and more efficient. The Feb. 11, Mar. 18, Apr. 15, May 6, and His feedback and suggestions will help to Council thanks the anonymous donor as June 3 from 1-4 p.m. at the Center. Meetguide the Council's work during the com- well as Stephen Sloan for his setup and ings are open to interested sangha meminstallation skills and his ongoing advice bers, although some discussion concernthroughout the project.

side, covered exit stairs that will be built U.K. Order member Paramashanti has Boston sangha, led the Sangha Day celebration on November 5, met informally > ordination to explain how that process works in India.

> ing personnel information may take place in executive session.

Good Question

By Sandy Bonin

ing Aryaloka going?

Supporting Friends, and other kinds of beautiful. donations - that helps to pay for the penses.

and solvency of the Center.

spend many hours cleaning the three "living the Dharma." Living the Dharma every day, wherever we may be! buildings, doing laundry, setting up for happens when folks come together in retreats, mowing lawns, raking, shovel- spiritual friendship and love for one aning, caring for the gardens and grounds, other in order to support each other's A friend asked me recently, "So, what preparing beautiful shrines (including lives and practices; when someone shares goes into keeping the Center going?" Our providing the flowers), doing infinite re- a welcoming handshake or hug, reaches conversation went off in another direc- pair and maintenance work, preparing and out to newcomers, and is truly attentive tion, but later I began to think about it publishing this newsletter, fundraising (e. when others are speaking; when a person some more. Just what does go into keep- g. the recent auction), planning programs offers to make tea for someone else, or and events, taking care of the trash and picks up a stray cup, or makes a helpful recycling, running the bookstore and the suggestion. It's anticipating another's At first I thought of the obvious: well, library, and on... Without the needs and doing things to make people there's dana – from retreats, Tuesday generosity of these many volunteers, Ary- happy. Living the Dharma can be as big night study, mitra study, the Mandala of aloka could never run as well or look so as spending the whole day at one of our Work Days or as small as sweeping a few crumbs off the floor. It transcends time phone, utilities, heat, snow plowing, sala- And of course, there is the Aryaloka and place. I believe that the Buddha's ries, regular maintenance and repairs, and Council whose members take on overall large contingent of disciples lived toa host of other ongoing and necessary ex- responsibility for the smooth operation gether so harmoniously precisely because of their awareness of the importance of such thoughts, speech, and actions. Simi-Then there are the kulas, groups working But, you know, there's a lot more that larly, living the Dharma keeps Aryaloka together for a common purpose, that keeps Aryaloka going. It could be called going, too. May we all live the Dharma

Please

If you need to request Center space for a meeting, sign up for a retreat, or make other arrangements involving the facilities, please sign up through the office. This will help to avoid our double-booking the same space or inadvertently leaving someone's name off a retreat signup list. E-mail is a great way to let us know what you need (info@aryaloka.org) and a phone message works fine, too (603-659-5456). Many thanks!

(Continued from page 6)

 যান্তারোলোলোলোলোলোলোলোলোলোলোলোল

energy. The second development was the financial stability to Aryaloka. I have constancy of the membership of the been so very proud to have been part of Ed. Note: Although Vidhuma has men-Council. Buddy Vaughan, Sue Bourne the Council, to have worked over the tioned the significant evolutions of the Racine (now Viriyalila) became the first women. The Council now is flourishing, without his wisdom and dedication to the mitras to be Council members, and and I can see only bright times ahead un- growth and stability of Aryaloka. Sadhu, brought their energy and ideas. The third der the guidance of those dedicated mem- Vidhuma.

factor that developed was that of bringing bers now on the Council. Khemavassika) and Michelle years with so many good men and Council, they could not have happened act in completely moral, ethical ways was not given to me? Did I give somewithout ever having to figure out what thing to someone with a generous heart? that meant. It would be a natural way of being. At this time in our lives, we have I undertake to abstain from sexual misto aim to act ethically, meditate and study conduct. to learn more of what the dharma means With stillness, simplicity, and contentas we live our daily lives.

(Continued from page 1)

As you read the positive and negative forms of the precepts, stop and think of one thing this means to you.

The Five Precepts

I undertake to abstain from taking life. With deeds of loving kindness, I purify my body.

Did this action harm someone or myself in any way? Did this action help someone or myself in any way?

I undertake to abstain from taking the

With open-handed generosity, I purify my body.

Did I take anything from someone that ment, I purify my body.

Have I engaged in sexual activity that was harmful to another? Am I content with my sexual activity?

I undertake to abstain from false speech. With truthful communication, I purify my speech.

Was I honest with myself about what I think or feel? Was my communication with another person honest?

I undertake to abstain from taking intoxi-

With mindfulness clear and radiant, I purify my mind.

Did I intoxicate my mind with substances or sense activities? Have I meditated to help keep my mind clear and aware?

As Dayalocana says in her article in this Vajra Bell, we are so fortunate to have our sangha, our community of spiritual friends to help us on our path as we grow in our practice of Buddhist ethics.

Changes at Wildmind

By Sunada

based on exploring The Wheel of Life. a separate business. There are others coming in the near fuour website at www.wildmind.org.

There are also a few changes in progress At the same time, Wildmind's accountant at Wildmind that you may be interested to was looking for a new office, so she took hear about. Wildmind has been very suc- over the lease that they no longer needed. cessful in the five years it's been in busi- Everything worked out perfectly. ness, in fact, maybe too successful! Ear-wanted to move on and return to college. to such worthy causes!

lier this year, Bodhipaska realized he was Part of the restructuring has involved so busy running a growing non-profit, he winding up Wildmind as a non- profit and Do you know that you can now take no longer had the time to write or re-establishing it as a Limited Liability Dharma classes on line through Wild- teach - the two main reasons he set up the Corporation (LLC). What this means in mind? You've probably heard of the business in the first place. So he decided practical terms is that Bodhipaksa has meditation classes we offer, but we have it was time to refocus. Going forward, he much more financial freedom to write and begun expanding our line of courses to and I will concentrate on writing, publish- teach. The other nice thing is that he gets include other interesting topics. Right ing CDs and online teaching, and have to play Santa Claus. Winding up a now there are courses on Mindfulness in passed on all retail activities (i.e. selling non-profit requires giving away all assets Daily Life, Mindfulness at Work, as well meditation cushions, incense, etc.) to Bill to other non-profits. So things like comas a series on Introductory Buddhism, McGuire. Bill will continue running it as puters and furniture have gone to Aryaloka, the Missoula FWBO center, Aids Response Seacoast and the Millford ture. To find out more or to sign up, visit By happy coincidence, Josh, who had Christian School. Bodhipaksa says it's managed the retail operations, decided he been really satisfying to give stuff away

Retreat at the New Hampshire State Prison

From Rich Cormier:

The Dhamma Vicaya Gana Sangha held a thoughts about the topic. retreat on November 3rd and 4th at the New Hampshire State Prison. The theme Thank you to the Men's GFR Group for sented. It has been difficult, however, to Sangha – an appropriate choice consider- every time we meet. Thank you! ing November is traditional Sangha Month. Order Members and Mitras from What a wonderful experience this retreat spiritual inspiration I experienced. My near and far were in attendance: Vid- created. I left truly inspired to develop my expectation was that I would meet men huma, Paramashanti, Thiradhamma, Bo- practice and cultivate Sangha. Thank you who were practicing the Dharma seridhipaksa, Vajramati, Steve Bell, Marilyn to everyone present at the retreat and to ously in a very difficult environment. Dyer, Steve and Debby Cardwell, Josh those in the background who could not Nothing prepared me, however, for the Nute, Dave Carr, Candace Copp, Venera attend. There is always an open invitation depth of practice so palpable in the medi-Gattonini, Stephen Sloan, and Frank to any who may want to attend future re- tation, one of the stillest I have ever ex-Gladu. (I hope none were forgotten.) This treats or weekly meetings. Simply contact perienced. Our commonality of practice was by far the largest turnout we've had Dave Carr or Bodhipaksa for info. Be seemed to transcend many other differfrom outside guests and we are eternally well and at peace. grateful.

tional members into our Sangha. Robert the prison in Concord on Saturday, gracious, straightforward and generous. Boyd, Charles Rawlings, and Robert [Fifteen Aryaloka folks] attended along Their direct and honest communication Jerome took their 'Refuges and Precepts' with a similar number of inmates (nine was the very essence of spiritual friendin a ceremony led by Dave Carr. We had mitras and a few guests who were inter- ship. I would strongly encourage the plenty of time to greet our guests and set ested in checking out Buddhism and the wider sangha to seize any opportunity to a friendly tone for the next day.

energy of peace and friendship could be tory, friendly, throughout the day.

Bodhipaksa gave an inspiring talk on the You really Generosity, Kindly or Affectionate event like Speech, Beneficial Activity, and Exemplieven more "civilians" present. fication. What a gift it was to have such a gifted presentation.

After lunch we regrouped for the after- prison. He's written to virtually all (if not Richard Cormier each expressed their more people personal understandings and experiences activities there in the future. with Spiritual Friendship/Sangha. Then we broke up into smaller groups of six, where everyone shared their feelings and From Marilyn Dyer:

of the event was Spiritual Friendship/ their gift of the singing bowl. We use it write my thoughts and impressions. I

From Bodhipaksa:

FWBO.

ning meeting left off; we got to know and the level of practice shown by the in- and inspiration. deepen our connections with the other mates, and the inmates - especially the members of the Sangha. With a full mitras and the two men who have asked From Steve Cardwell: schedule ahead, we eagerly began with for ordination - were incredibly apprecia- I agree with Bodhipaksa that this was a the Shrine dedication. This was followed tive to have more contact with the wider very special retreat and a big thank you to by what I can only describe as a very Aryaloka sangha than is normally Bodhipaksa, Dave Carr, Thiradhamma, powerful Metta Bhavana meditation. The possible. The atmosphere was celebra- Paramashanti, Vajramati and Vidhuma welcoming, felt and it was carried by the group appreciative. It's really impossible to activities. communicate in words just how satisfying and uplifting this event was. A large amount of participation by volunthis > of Aryaloka's outreach efforts at the confidence and connection. will

When Bodhipaksa asked me to write a short article on the retreat, I readily ascan't seem to adequately express the intensity of the positive feelings and the ences. We truly experienced sangha even though many of us had never met before.

On Friday night we welcomed three addi- ... What an amazing retreat we had at The sangha at the prison were welcoming, volunteer or attend a retreat at the prison. Meeting these wonderful dharma practi-Saturday continued right where the eve- All of our visitors went away inspired by tioners will bring a mutual enrichment and for their participation and organizational had to be there, teers is important to the men of the Con-Four Means of Unification for Sangha: and I hope that the next time we do an cord Sangha to help them see that there we'll have are many sangha members on the outside who really care about their Dharma prac-This support from Aryatice. Sangharakshita has been very supportive loka will provide them with increased noon sessions. A panel discussion was all) of the mitras there, and he asks about It's quite possible that the benefits just organized by Thiradhamma. Steve Bell, the progress of the prison sangha from last Saturday's retreat could give Debbie Cardwell, James Mosonyi, and on a regular basis. I do hope that even these men enough positive energy to support strengthen their chances for success on the outside.....

YES to the UK!

By Anne Rugg

do a retreat in the U.K. I would stub- they conducted themselves and related to temporary Buddhist art was awe- inspirbornly whine, "But my sangha is HERE, I others. I believe one of the women lead- ing. Our own Betsy will have a show don't CARE about what goes on in Eng- ing the retreat is a stream-entrant. Mind- there in February! land..."

I must admit that this is the first retreat in talks by well-known FWBO authors. which I experienced great sadness in leaving.

blowing.

Leonie and Sandy, I recently attended a FWBO woman's community and gained my next trip across the pond to Dhana-10 day meditation retreat (based on the more of a sense of what the Order is like kosa, a spectacular FWBO retreat center Satipatthana Sutta) at Taraloka, in Wales. in England - BIG, vibrant, with so much in the wilds of Scotland. The experience was beyond fantastic and going on in terms of classes, retreats, and

I also had the opportunity to visit the Manchester Buddhist Center (would you What struck me was the depth of practice believe four stories, and packed with of many of the retreatants, some over 30 classrooms, coffee/tea bar, restaurant, ofyears! Their deep devotion and integra- fice space, yoga rooms, meditation rooms, For years I've resisted the suggestion to tion of the Dharma was so evident in how gift shop, etc.?!) The collection of con-

But don't take my word for it...go see for Well, all that has changed! Along with I had the great pleasure of visiting an yourself! I'm already fantasizing about

From the Editor

From Leonie Luterman

tures clash around this time of year. Our ground for chaos, inner and outer. we give and how and to whom and with nual re-alignment of priorities.

alive in all we do, but especially as we wrote about the meaning of the vajra and Sometimes it seems to me that the cul- head into a season that can seem fertile the bell: "...the vajra stands for the pracfamily has just celebrated an early Chanu- What is a seasonally appropriate Buddhist and meditation; the bell stands for the kah, even as I prepare the Christmas lists. practice? There will be the annual winter wisdom with which these first five perfec-I see the Christmas, Chanukah and retreat for those who can get away for a tions are imbued." Kwanza celebrations as a sort of cultur- few days to this quiet place. For those ally-sanctioned time of full-blown gener- who cannot manage that, we will again May we practice with delight! osity. Not a bad impulse. And one clearly offer a full day of Meditating for Peace on founded on the practice of ethics, in what January first, and that seems a lovely an- The Vajra and the Bell what motivation. The precepts can come Perhaps Vessantara said it best when he tice of generosity, ethics, patience, effort

NAGALOKA BUDDHIST CENTER

Nagaloka, the FWBO center in Portland, has an active schedule (visit www.nagalokabuddhistcenter.org).

Sunday mornings at 9am there is meditation with Mindfulness of Breathing

Friday evenings at 7pm meditation is with Metta Bhavana.

Wednesday evenings at 7 pm is Sangha Night. Each member of the sangha is preparing and leading an evening during December and January.

Dec 9th from 2-4:30pm Nancy Lorraine lead a family fun afternoon creating the 5 colorful Jina Buddhas. This was great fun.

Vajra Bell's Interview with Nagabodhi, President of Aryaloka

VB: How did you come to the Dharma?

neous mystical experience while on a camping holiday in Portuber. gal in 1968. Soon afterwards, friends of my father lent me a collection of their books on religion and mysticism. Once I read VB: What is your vision for Aryaloka?

centers around the world?

asked me to oblige.

VB: What centers do you visit and where are they?

Wellington and Sudarshanaloka in New Zealand; Windhorse tary Publications and Sheffield in the UK.

VB: How are they similar/different from our center?

warmer in some of those places! Some, like Auckland, Wellington, and Sheffield, are urban centers with no retreat facilities. And Windhorse Publications is a whole other thing entirely. But I would say that all the teaching centers have a common flavor. Anyone attending any of them would feel at home in any of the others. You'd be able to meditate together, do puja, discuss the Dharma with a common understanding of terms and underlying principles, in particular as translated into a western idiom for us by Sangharakshita. And I think you'd feel a very common bond with the people practising there, and trying to apply Dharma principles in their lives.

VB: What are the most rewarding/challenging aspects of your

NB: I enjoy meeting people, and love watching their potential unfold as they deepen their practice and try to live a Dharma life, especially when they place a high value on sharing their discovery of the Dharma with others. I enjoy helping and making a difference with my visits, which is often quite easy. Simply bringing an outsider's perspective and asking the obvious questions can sometimes work wonders.

VB: What changes in Aryaloka have you seen since you have started coming here?

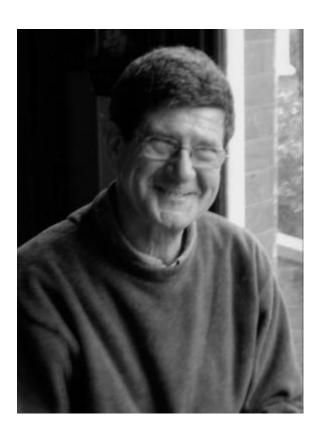

NB: I've seen Aryaloka become fully American. When I first came along, most of the residents, the teachers, and people 'in charge' were Brits. The facility has become more beautiful and the center more financially secure, which is great. I have seen the sangha pass thru a number of phases with several highs and a few very worrying lows. Right now Aryaloka seems to be in the grip of a very encouraging high, with more people attending NB: I came to the Dharma after having somewhat of a sponta- and getting more deeply involved than at any time I can remema few of the Buddhist texts, I knew I had found my home. NB: My vision for Aryaloka? Well, I'm more interested in your vision! But, okay, I look forward to seeing the place financially VB: How did you come to be president of a number of FWBO and physically strong and secure. I'd like to see another twenty to thirty Order members--certainly within the next five to ten NB: Around 1989 I visited Aryaloka to lead a study retreat on years--all getting on well with each other and making huge Shantideva's Bodhicaryavatara. I think I must have made a leaps in their practice. I'd like to see several of them teaching at good impression because when Sangharakshita introduced the Aryaloka, of course, while also initiating more outreach pro-'Presidential System' a few months later, the folks at Aryaloka grams in the neighboring towns - as Dharmasuri has so successfully done in Portland. I would like to see a good number of Order members in their twenties and thirties. The sangha's survival will depend on that. I would love to hear of more mitras NB: I am president of Aryaloka and NYC in the US; Auckland, and Order members finding the time to take some longer soliretreats (as well as retreats in general).

VB: What are you favourite Dharma books?

NB: My favourite Dharma books remain, I think, the Dhamma-NB: Well, the months of November thru' March tend to be pada and the Bodhicaryavatara. They are so compact, and yet between them they say everything.

Upcoming Events

(all events at Aryaloka unless noted 'Akasaloka')

JANUARY

Monday, Jan. 1, 6am-6pm: Meditate for Peace Day

Saturday, Jan. 20, 10am-4pm: Introductory Meditation Day on Metta, Loving-kindness

Friday 7pm-Sunday 4pm, Jan. 26-28: Bodhicaryavatara Retreat, open to practitioners with some experience

FEBRUARY

Thursday 7pm-Sunday 2pm, Feb. 1-4: Yoga and Meditation Retreat, open to new participants Introductory Meditation Day on Mindfulness, (Akasaloka) Friday 7pm-Sunday 4pm, Feb. 9-11: Weekend retreat for men who have requested ordination

MARCH

Sunday-Friday, March 4-9: Times TBA Meditation Residency Retreat, 5 days of intensive meditation, option for sangha to join the silent retreat for morning and evening meditations, (Akasaloka)

Saturday, March 10, 9am-4pm: Women's Cabin Fever Holistic Health Day

For Your Information...

FWBO CENTERS IN THE U.S.

Newmarket, NH; Portland, ME; Belfast, ME; Lubec, ME; Somerville, MA; New York City, NY; Missoula, MT; San Francisco, CA; Seattle, WA; Richland, WA.

FWBO women now have two private preceptors (for women who have asked for ordination) in North America: Karunadevi on the west coast, and our own Dayalocana on the east coast.

DEFINITIONS OF PLACE NAMES

Aryaloka = Noble Realm

Akasaloka (the annex) = A place for finding the feeling of spaciousness in your life

Shantiloka (the solitary cabin) = A place of peace

Nagaloka (Portland) = A place of deep wisdom which resonates with the ocean of the Dharma

WEBSITES OF INTEREST

www.aryaloka.orgwww.taraloka.orgwww.beliefnet.orgwww.nagaloka.orgwww.buddhafield.comwww.fwbo-news.comwww.wildmind.orgwww.dhanakosa.comwww.freebuddhistaudio.comwww.sfbuddhistcenter.orgwww.accesstoinsight.orgwww.flickr.com/photos/fwbo/setswww.fwbomissoula.orgwww.urbandharma.org

RECOMMENDED

From Marilyn Dyer

Stranger than Fiction – Having not read any reviews prior to attending this movie, I was very pleasantly surprised. I expected a reasonably good comedy, but the movie is more thought-provoking and much deeper than I anticipated, raising questions such as; Who is writing the script of our lives? To what ends do we sacrifice ourselves or other individuals? What role does compassion play in the arena of art?